And if we do this shall we not)ie instinctively following in the footsteps of the Father of men who was placed on earth to till it for. his subsistenee by the Eloheim f And shall we not realize tluit fitness of things which leads men from the apex of power and influential place, to work again amid the perfume of the soil and draw the treasures of her beneficent heart for life and happiness and wealth. The celebrated sheep known as the C otswold receive their name from the Cotswold Hills of England. It is a tract of excellent grazing land of 200,000 acres dividing the hasins of the Thames and Severn. For more than a hundred years in England the Shorthorn has been the leading dairy cow. It is a matter of record that no special milk and butter breed has been able to compete successfully with the Shorthorn for the royal dairy prize. A g(Xid condition powder for fowls is as follows: Oue pound each of ground bones, dried meat, linseed meal and fenugreek: an ounce each of sulphur, ginger, pepper and copperas. Give: i small.quantity once a day mixed with soft feed, but do not feed condition powders to hens unless ailing. Rye will begin to grow on the first approach of spring. It provides the first early pasturage. If kept moderately grazed, provided the land has been well manured...
