On entering the gate, he gave to one of his attendants a polished iron hook, with which he governed his elephant; as not any thing that can be used as a weapon is suffered to be brought within the precincts of the palace, not even by his majesty s sons. The prince s escort halted without the gate, and the greater number of his attendants were stopped, those only being admitted who were of higher rank, together with the men who carried his large beetle-box of gold, and his flaggon of water, which are brought rather for state than refreshment. When the prince had alighted, his elephant returned, and all the attendants ranged themselves in the area, between the rhoom and the palace gate. Soon after the Prince of Pegahm had entered, the Prince of Tonghoo, the next...
